About Town And Country

'W. K.' Loses Battle of 'Tim' With Phone Company

DELETION DEPT.: The new phone directories are out and the General Telephone Company of Illinois has won the Battle of Timotheus.

It was a hard fight, but I must admit defeat. I lost. I am conquered. It wasn't a case of a David over a Goliath this time. It was the reverse.

I'm referring to the battle of three years to keep my listing "W. K. Tim Turner" in the book. This year it ain't. It's listed as "W. K. Turner" and in case any of you local people desire to give me a ring about your sow having 17 pigs or your tomato that weighs four pounds, two ounces, I'll tell you right now that W. K. Turner is Tim Turner.

How about retaliation? I've been giving the matter some thought.

Now the utility's name, "General Telephone Company of Illinois," is quite a long name. In fact, it contains exactly 22 more letters than W. K. Tim Turner. That means that W. K. Tim Turner is exactly one-third as long as General Telephone Company of Illinois.

Of course, the reason—a silly one—is that the telephone company will not run a regular name and a nickname—regardless of the number of letters in the whole shebang. They'll run one or the other. And naturally, it's not the fault of anybody here at the local office. It's either company policy or the policy of the company that prints the directory; and I'd betcha that if it's directory company policy, that a few words from the telephone company in that direction could change it, since the phone company is paying the bill.

But back to retaliation. I could decide that General Telephone Company of Illinois is too long for this column and decide to call it something shorter.

I could call it—to save space—Gen. Telephone Company of Ill. on a set-up policy that we abbreviate the titles of military officers and the names of states.

Or I could shorten it to General T. Co. of Ill. Or Gen. Co. of Ill. Or Gen. TCOI.

Anyhow, W. K. spells Tim.

How about our forming a Guys With Nicknames Who Want Them Listed Too club and see what can be done about it?

So much for that. I right now have on my desk a brickbat and it isn't one that has arrived already as the result of the above dissertation. It is one bearing the likeness of the face of Abraham Lincoln. Now this brick isn't a phenomenon. The face of Lincoln was put on the side of the brick at the kiln. It was brought to The Daily Register office by Kenneth Smith of the U. S. Forest Service. Homer Peyton gave it to him after children found it while playing a mile south of Karber's Ridge.

On another side of the brick is the inscription, Equality, Illinois; so it was made there.

Noble Mitchell, employed at The Daily Register office, tells me that such a brick is in the concrete sidewalk at the home of Charlie Hayes on East Dayton street. It was placed there by Fred Davis.

Can anybody who reads this give this department any information on a brick kiln at Equality that made Abraham Lincoln bricks and the reason for it?

Senate Committee Approves Campbell as Comptroller General

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Government Operations Committee today approved the long-stalled nomination of Joseph E. Campbell to be comptroller general.

The committee vote was 7-3. Four Republicans and three Democrats voted for the nomination, and three Democrats were opposed.

Democratic opponents had contended Campbell lacked experience. The job usually goes to a member of Congress.

Stelle Says Operation Ready Within 90 Days

No Indication Where $3 Million Plant to Build

John Stelle, head of John Stelle Associates, big independent producers in the Eldorado oil field, today said that there would be a gasoline plant in operation in the Eldorado field in 90 days.

The announcement was made through Atty. Ralph W. Choissier, manager of the Eldorado office of John Stelle Associates.

Stelle said that the plant would be a $3,000,000 operation that would be capable of taking care of 30 million cubic feet of gas per day and would be installed by the Warren Petroleum Co. of Tulsa, Okla.

There was no indication as to where it would be situated.

Stelle, who is head of a committee of Eldorado oil field producers who will negotiate with the Warren company, said no contract has been signed but that it appears definite that the plant will be erected.

At a meeting in Evansville Tuesday of operators in the Eldorado field, the question of selling the gas from the field to the Warren Petroleum Co. was discussed. A Mr. Howard of the Warren company submitted contracts to the operators. The operators then appointed a committee composed of John Stelle, chairman, Jerry Atkinson of Inland Producers, Evansville; Mr. Loring of W. C. McBride, Inc., Centralia; Frank Kibler of the Portis Drilling Co., Evansville; and Roy Pledger, Evansville operator, to work out the contract and come back with their recommendations for signing.

On Feb. 21 there was an announcement made by the Warren Petroleum Co. that it would move its Selmaville plant in the Centralia-Salem field to Eldorado, that workers were in the process of dismantling the plant that had been idle for about ten months.

This announcement said that the plant extracted gasoline, butane and propane from the natural oil well gases and that at capacity the plant employed about forty men.

At present the gas is being dissipated through lighted flares. It would be piped to the gasoline plant under the present plans.

Rites at Bethalto Friday for Ira Hudgins, 59

Saline county relatives of Ira Hudgins, 59, went to Bethalto today to attend his funeral and burial which will take place at Bethalto Friday.

Mr. Hudgins, who was the son of Ben and Angeline Hudgins, was born and reared in Saline county and lived in this county until recently. His death occurred very suddenly at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

In 1917 he married Myrtle Rice, who survives with the following children: Ira Jr., Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Geneva Dazies and Mrs. Marie Thomas, Bethalto; Mrs. Maxine Brunk, East Alton, and Charlene, at home. He was a brother of John and William Hudgins, Harrisburg, Mrs. Cora Cox, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Harriet Davis, Leflore.

He was a veteran of World War I.

Capital Society Stunned by Davies Divorce

WASHINGTON (AP)—The breakup of the 20-year marriage of Joseph E. Davies, 78, former ambassador to Russia, and Mrs. Davies, 67, one of the nation's richest women, stunned Washington society today.

The couple long had been leading figures in the capital city's social life, noted for their fabulous parties. They entertained lavishly at both "Treasure", the 29-acre garden-filled Davies family estate, and aboard the "Sea Cloud," Mrs. Davies' 316-foot yacht, which was harbored at Annapolis in the summer and in more southern waters during the winter.

Their marital split had been kept a closely guarded secret until Mrs. Davies was granted a final divorce decree Wednesday in Gooding, Idaho, on grounds of mental cruelty and incompatibility. Ben Sonnenberg, a New York spokesman for Davies, said there was no property settlement.

Mrs. Davies is heir to a fortune from Post Toasties cereal, Postum and Texas Oil. Davies is a prosperous corporate and international lawyer and former diplomat.

It was her third marriage to end in divorce; his second.

Eccles Urges Higher Margins In Stock Trading

WASHINGTON (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, recommended today that margin requirements for stock trading be raised promptly to 75 per cent.

That would mean a stock buyer would have to put up three quarters of a stock purchase in cash. The current requirement is 60 per cent cash. The remainder is financed on credit.

Eccles said the increase in margin requirements is necessary to slow down the rise in security prices.

The Salt Lake City banker also told the Senate Banking Committee investigating the market boom that margin requirements later should be increased to 100 per cent "if the value of stocks continues to rise."

Stocks, after declining in three previous sessions, reversed at the opening in New York today. Opening gains ranged to more than $1 a share and restored a large part of Wednesday's losses.

The rapid increase in the price of stocks generally during the last year, supported by a growth in brokers' loans of more than $800 million dollars, indicates the need for further control of stock market credit, Eccles said.

"There cannot be a perpetual bull market and to the extent that excesses to develop unchecked, just so much more painful the decline will be, with adverse effects on the economy in general," he said.

Winthrop H. Smith, a leading New York broker, testified Wednesday that increasing margin requirements to 100 per cent would not stop speculation.

J. G. Galbraith, Harvard economics professor, also testified this week that margin requirements should be raised to 100 per cent.

Some Wall Street experts saw his testimony as responsible for the dip this week in stock market prices. But other discounted this.

Eccles also recommended that the government tighten up on housing loans to slow down the construction boom.

"The basic danger of the present housing boom is that while it is the greatest support to the economy, it is largely sustained by rapid growth of debt of the middle and low income groups," Eccles said.

"I believe a point of saturation is fast approaching, with serious economic consequences to the whole economy."

Mrs. T. H. Daily Of Shawneetown Dies

Mrs. Thomas H. Daily, widow of the late Attorney Thomas H. Daily, resident of Shawneetown, died in the Moll Nursing home in Valley Park, Mo., Wednesday morning.

The body is now at the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown where it will lie in state. The funeral will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's Catholic church in Old Shawneetown. Rev. John O'Keefe, the pastor, will officiate and burial will be in the Emmaculate Conception cemetery.

Rosary will be said Friday at 8 p. m. at the funeral home.

First Fatality Reported in Ohio River Flood

Crest to Sweep Past Cincinnati; Louisville Next

By United Press
The Muddy Ohio River's flood crest was to hit Cincinnati today. It had already claimed at least one life and some river front buildings were completely under water.

The city's worst flood crest in seven years was to sweep down the swollen river before noon EST at a height of 61.2 feet.

The silt-laden waters stood at 61 feet at Cincinnati early today and were rising at a rate of a tenth of a foot every four hours.

Upstream, the rampaging Ohio had forced evacuation of 3,823 persons in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. Water ran through the business streets of river towns and damage was estimated in the millions.

In the Cincinnati area alone, the Red Cross was caring for 925 persons.

First Fatality Reported

Basements were flooded and water ran three feet deep on the first floors of warehouses, tenement buildings and stores along the waterfront.

It was in one of these flooded warehouses that the flood claimed its first victim Wednesday. Trenton Hinton Jr., 27, lowered a freight elevator to check the water depth and drowned when the car stuck.

Low-lying areas to the east and west of Cincinnati were already under water, including the Coney Island resort and River Downs Race Track.

Across the broad Ohio, the Red Cross fed 75 persons at Dayton, Ky., and the suburb of Silver Grove was isolated.

Kentucky's major city, Louisville was next on the flood's list of victims. A 37.5 crest was expected there Friday and threatened to flood homes and business places lying outside a flood wall.

Additional damage could also be expected in Indiana, where 150 to 200 families have already been forced to evacuate their homes for a while.

Meanwhile, the Ohio Highway Patrol said evacuated families were moving back into their homes and starting the job of cleaning up the grease-like silt from Pomeroy to Athens.

CIO to Open Auto Wage Talks

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers prepared today to give the automobile industry its first formal look at the union demand for a guaranteed annual wage that many fear will shatter the five-year labor peace in the automobile industry.

The CIO will sit down with Ford and General Motors in separate meetings next week to kick off the long-awaited negotiations for new agreements to replace the five year contracts now running out in the automobile industry.

The Ford contract expires June 1 and the GM contract May 29. Many fear the union's guaranteed wage demand might trigger bitter strikes affecting thousands of workers in the industry, the keystone of the national economy.

Next week's talks will be preliminary in nature, with the union giving the companies its demands for the first time.

Besides the guarantee of 52 weeks of work, the union is seeking a 40-hour guaranteed work week, higher pay and improved pensions and health plans in the new contracts.

'Gentle' Bull Kills Farm Couple

WINDSOR, Ill. (AP)—A "gentle" bull, already sold to another farmer, today was held responsible for the deaths of a farm couple near here.

The badly mangled bodies of Ralph Roby, 66, and his wife Alma, 60, were found early Wednesday in a barn lot on their farm.

Shelby County Coroner Gerald Lockart said the couple was last seen about 10 a. m. Tuesday, and apparently had been killed late Wednesday, ruled the couple died of injuries inflicted by the animal.

A neighboring farmer, Dallas Storm, discovered the bodies. He said he had been attracted to the farm by the bellowing of the bull and saw the bodies of the couple in the barn lot.

The animal, considered "gentle" by Roby, had been sold to another farmer who was supposed to have called for the bull Wednesday.

Funeral services for the couple will be held Friday.

From the Ohio Levee at Old Shawneetown

THE RIVER'S UP AT SHAWNEETOWN and the ferry's not running, the sign plainly says. The river yesterday afternoon was at a stage of 44.5 feet, which makes it come up pretty well on the levee. Just how high can be determined by the proximity of the fish boat at the left. The latest prediction on the river forecasts a crest of 45.5 feet Monday.

OL' MAN RIVER just keeps going and the Ohio river bridge at Shawneetown just keeps coming along, as can be seen by the construction picture. The huge concrete piers across the swollen river are now carrying some steel, as this picture from the Illinois side shows. Steel work has been done on the Kentucky side and about 300 feet of the lower part of the steel structure projects from the Illinois side out into the river. Yesterday work was in progress on the Kentucky side but not in Illinois. The bridge will be completed in October or November. (Daily Register Staff Photos)

New Uranium Activity in Hardin County

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. (AP)—New activity by uranium prospectors at Hicks Dome north of here aroused Hardin County residents again today.

The prospectors, who hope to find uranium ore in the Hicks Dome area, have brought in bulldozers to strip earth from the sandstone rock. Some planned to drill out samples of the uncovered rock for further tests to see if it contains uranium ore of commercial value.

Some samples of rock taken earlier have been sent to assayers for tests to determine the percentage of uranium, if any. It was reported a Louisville, Ky., laboratory found some of the ore to have commercial value.

Harry Porter, editor of the weekly newspaper here, said other samples were sent to laboratories in Washington, D. C., and Denver. Porter said he has not heard any reports on the tests of those samples.

Samples of rock from Hicks Dome were tested in 1952 for uranium content but lab reports then showed the percentage of uranium in the rock was below commercial value.

Hubby Throws Away Wife's False Teeth

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—Andrew Cordas, 41, was arrested after his wife charged he came home drunk, took her false teeth, walked across the street and threw them in a dump.

U. S. Troops Will Remain In Europe if Pact Ratified, Eisenhower Reassures

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today affirmed United States willingness to maintain armed forces in Europe, including Germany, if the Paris agreements establishing the Western European Union are ratified fully.

The President restated U. S. policy on the rearmament of Western Germany and other aspects of the Paris agreements in a special message to the prime ministers of Belgium, France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

With the Western nations pressing for ratification of the Paris pacts, Mr. Eisenhower reaffirmed a six-point policy program for the United States to become effective upon ratification of the agreements.

His statement came as the French upper house considered ratification. Presumably Mr. Eisenhower's statement was designed to throw all possible weight behind the French government campaign for approval.

The six points listed by the President promised to:

1. Continue activity in and support of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

2. Work toward the objective of controlling armaments by consulting with the agency for the control of armaments of the Western European Union.
3. Continue maintenance in Europe of American armed forces up to the degree "necessary and appropriate to contribute its fair share of the forces needed for the joint defense of the North Atlantic area while a threat to that area exists."

4. Co-operate in the "closest possible integration" of NATO forces in Western Europe, including troops contributed by West Germany.

Knowland Sees Defeat; Senate Debate Begins

Compromise Bill Seeks to Offset Loss in Revenue

By United Press
Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey said today he doesn't like a compromise tax cut proposed by some Senate Democrats. He called it "irresponsible... political... silly."

Humphrey told the House Ways and Means Committee he thinks no better of the Senate plan than he does of the straight $20-per-person cut approved by the House.

As Senate debate began on the compromise proposal, Republican Leader William F. Knowland told reporters the Eisenhower administration is against it and Senate Republicans "are going to resist it." Also opposed are some prominent Senate Democrats such as Sens. Harry F. Byrd (Va.) and Walter F. George (Ga.).

The Senate proposal calls for a cut effective Jan. 1 of $20 a year for all taxpayers plus $10 for all dependents except wives. It would benefit mainly families earning under $5,000 a year. It would offset the resulting revenue loss by repealing some tax law provisions benefiting businesses and stockholders.

Other congressional news:

CIVIL DEFENSE: Atomic officials told a Senate group they can't supply information freely to the Civil Defense Administration, although they can to the military. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) thought this "most peculiar." He said that because of atomic security, civil defense plans against the H-bomb have "bogged down."

FAR EAST: Two Democratic senators said war danger in the Far East has increased because Communist China still is unconvinced the United States "means business" in saying it will fight against further Red aggression. The view was expressed by Sens. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), both members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

LOOPHOLES: House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack said a loophole in last year's Republican-sponsored tax law "conveys the present administration of financial irresponsibility." He said the Democrats "exposed" the loophole, which benefits business firms and that now the Treasury is "practically" urging that it be plugged to prevent large revenue losses.

MENTAL HEALTH: A spokesman for the American Medical Association told a House subcommittee the AMA supports two administration proposals dealing with mental health. One would increase grants to states and private psychiatric institutions for research on mental illness. The other would authorize a government-financed, three-year investigation by an appropriate private group into the whole field of mental health.

Streamliner Kills Woman at Marion

MARION, Ill. (AP)—A Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad streamliner killed a woman who lay down on the tracks north of here early today.

The Williamson county sheriff's office said the woman was identified as Mrs. Lawrence Webb, 43, who lived near Spillertown several miles north of here. Her husband told officers Mrs. Webb had been in poor health for several years.

The engineer, A. Burksins of Villa Grove, told authorities he was unable to stop the streamliner before it hit the woman.

Democrats to Hold Get-Together Saturday At the Court House

Democrats of Harrisburg township will hold a get-together Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house in Harrisburg.

The session is called for the purpose of discussing the issues and making plans for the approaching township election on Tuesday, April 5, and to discuss other affairs of interest to the party.

Operation Candor

Editorial By Bruce Blossat
The Atomic Energy Commission, not an agency that often talks freely to the American public, turned dramatically candid in its first estimate of the danger from the radioactive fall-out that would follow a hydrogen bomb blast.

More than a year ago, the Eisenhower administration, deeply impressed with the shocking facts on nuclear weapons then at its command, planned what came to be known as "Operation Candor." The American people were to be told enough of the grim story to shatter their complacency, if any, but not enough to frighten them needlessly.

The thing never came off. Other counsels prevailed, and the Administration shifted its attention instead to the admirably conceived proposal for peaceful use of the atom.

Since then, the famous Bikini tests of the H-bomb have been conducted, and the facts today are far more astounding than those which prompted the original idea for
"Candor."

The AEC decided to tell this bigger story, primarily as a basic service to Americans who need to understand the magnitude of the peril, and what elementary steps
they might take if suddenly caught in an enemy H-bomb's lethal zone.

When the agency reported that the Bikini tests showed that all life would be endangered within a 7000-square-mile zone, it was presuming that no one within the area would take any protective measures. But it is quick to point out that many simple and yet highly effective things could be done
by individuals to ward off the radioactive peril.

Obviously, those in the immediate target area would be annihilated.
But for those 100 to 200 miles from the center, the AEC said it often might be enough simply to get down into basements and other underground spaces. There would be some advantage even in being inside one's house on the first 36
hours.

At the outer limits of the lethal zone, about 190 miles downwind from the bomb blast, radioactivity would in fact be so reduced that only 5 to 10 per cent of the people would be seriously affected, and then only if they remained out of doors continuously for the first 36
hours.

While there can be some comfort for us in the knowledge that quite simple steps may help to avert death or permanent injury
at some distance from the blast,
there can be none at all in knowing that we and the Russians have a weapon which can spray radioactive poisons over a swath almost as big as New Jersey.

The AEC report obviously is an important contribution to public knowledge of the biggest single factor in the world's life today:
the colossal destructive power of nuclear weapons.

It should provide a spur to our lagging civil defense programs. But much more, it should provide fresh inspiration for all those world leaders, including President Eisenhower, who believe there must never be a war fought with such weapons,
who feel peace and civilization's survival are today synonymous.

It'll Hurt a Little More This Year

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Tennessee's Governor Proves
An Expensive Democrat; Herbert Hoover Has Bad News
For Farmers; Farm Loans
Will Be Drastically Restricted.

WASHINGTON. — Under The Dome — Still operating on a shoestring budget, the Democratic National Committee may raise Tennessee's assessment to the committee to make up for Gov. Frank Clement's whopping expenses last fall. The governor gave speeches for the Democrats in only six midwestern states, but turned in an expense account for $4,800. . . . In contrast, Tennessee's rugged campaigner, Sen. Estes Kefauver, went on a barnstorming, speechmaking tour through over 20 states, coast to coast. Yet he submitted a bill for only $1,200 expenses. . . . Deputy Attorney General Bill Rogers, who escorted new Supreme Court Justice John Harlan
to his Senate hearing, warned him repeatedly: "A Senate hearing isn't a judicial process. It's more of a fraternity initiation." . . . The White House is quietly working out a compromise on reciprocal trade with the Senate's protectionist Republicans. Despite the victory given him by Speaker Sam Rayburn in the House, the President is willing to back down from a three to a two-year extension of the trade program. He'll also write in special protection for hardship industries. . . . The Democrats have coined a new title for Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, whose influence is felt in all departments of government. The Democrats
call him "secretary of everything."

The Labor Department, already hard-pressed with the problems of manpower, will delve into a new one next week. A conference has been called on how to make best use of the nation's woman-power.

BAD NEWS FOR FARMER
It will be a blow to the little farmers, but the Hoover Commission will soon spring drastic, new recommendations to tighten farm credit. The main effect will be to transfer the benefits of farm price supports, in part, from the farmers to the bankers.

These to-heck-with-the-farmers recommendations aren't supposed to be made public for several weeks, but this column has received a copy of the forthcoming Hoover Commission's report on streamlining the farm financing agencies.

Most jolting to farmers will be a recommendation "that the Commodity Credit Corporation cease to make loans on commodities and that it confine itself to purchase agreements on commodities."

This would revolutionize the whole price-support program, since most farmers draw their price supports in the form of commodity loans. At harvest time, the farmers repay the government on as much of their crop as they can sell,
then forfeit the rest as collateral.

The Hoover Commission's idea is to turn the juicy, $3,000,000,000, annual crop-loan business over to private banks. Explains the forthcoming report: "A considerable saving of administrative expenditures could be made if the corporation abandoned making loans to farmers on commodities and used the method of purchase agreements alone. The farmer could with such a government contract finance himself by loans on his commodities from private institutions pending his determination as to when he would sell, and thus the private financial machinery could finance the crop at a considerable saving to the government."

In other words, the farmers would be forced to go to their banks and pay commercial interest rates for their crop loans. The bankers wouldn't risk a nickel
since the purchase agreements would be tantamount to a government guarantee of the loans. What this would amount to is price support for bankers.

TIGHTER CREDIT
Another Hoover recommendation that will knock the little farmers for a loop, calls for tightening credit on farm home loans. This will make it next to impossible for little farmers to buy their own homes. As it now stands, the Farmers Home Administration will loan up to 90 per cent on the appraised value of a farm. The Hoover Commission, however, wants the FHA to "require adequate equities under all its loan programs except disaster and emergency crop and feed loans."

Though vague, this indicates the FHA should, in Hoover's opinion, toughen its loan policy in line with the recommendations of the commission. Yet the whole purpose of FHA is to provide loans to farmers who have been turned down by their local bankers.

The Hoover report further urges "that the Congress require such interest fees, premiums or other charges as will cover administrative expenses, cost of money to the Treasury, and losses."

The effect of this will be to boost interest rates to the little farmers up to 12 or 13 per cent. One of the biggest "administrative expenses," for example, is to make sure these small farm loans are sound. This has resulted in a 99 percent FHA repayment record.

Three Air Force Jets Smash Coast- To-Coast Record

NEW YORK. — Three Air Force jet planes streaked across the country in less than four hours Wednesday to smash the official coast-to-coast speed record.

Lt. Col. Robert R. Scott of Des Moines, Iowa, flew his F84F Thunderstreak the 2,445 miles from Los Angeles to New York in 3 hours, 46 minutes and 33.3-seconds. His average speed was 650 miles an hour.

The other two record breakers,
also flying Thunderstreaks, were
Maj. Robert C. Rudy of Des Moines and Capt. Charles T. Hudson of Gulfport, Miss. Rudy's time was exactly one minute more than Scott's and Hudson was clocked at 3 hours, 49 minutes and 53.2-
seconds.

The old official transcontinental record was set Jan. 2, 1954, by Col.
Willard W. Millikan, commander of an Air National Guard unit, who flew across the nation in 4 hours, 6 minutes and 16 seconds.

To Permit 11 Russian Editors To Visit in U. S.

WASHINGTON. — Eleven Russian editors of student publications will be permitted to visit this country, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. announced today.

The decision was made at the request of the State Department.
The Russian editors can stay here 30 days.

Brownell said the Institute of International Education of New York will make arrangements for the Russians to visit various American colleges.

The temporary entry visas were granted to 11 of 13 editors who applied last fall for permission to visit this country. A special waiver of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, which bans Communist travel, was necessary to issue
the permits.

The law allows admission of residents of Communist countries only if the secretary of state recommends a waiver and if the attorney general grants it.

Centralia Man is Robbed by Couple

CENTRALIA, Ill. — An elderly Centralia man was robbed of between $1,500 and $1,800 Wednesday by a man and a woman believed to be either gypsies or Indians.

Centralia police withheld identity
of the robbery victim.

Police said he was going home with an armful of groceries when the pair stopped him and asked directions to a church. He told police the woman touched his clothing during the conversation
but he didn't miss his wallet until he returned home.

The man told police the man and woman had dark complexions.

Stocks Rally After Three-Day Decline

NEW YORK. — A smart rally in stocks today restored about one-fifth of the losses suffered in the previous three days.

By mid-session, the list showed a rise of one billion dollars in value of all listed shares. These had lost five billion dollars in the Monday-Wednesday plunge.

Defense stocks furnished the best gains although the market generally was well above the previous closing levels. At noon the industrial average had recovered 70 per cent of Wednesday's losses and the rails had more than made up their decline, while utilities rallied 33 1-3 per cent.

The first to assume the title of poet laureate in England was Geoffrey Chaucer. In 1389 he received a royal grant of a yearly allowance of wine.

Brookport to Observe Centennial May 27-30

BROOKPORT, Ill. — Dates for the Brookport Centennial have been set for May 27 through the 30, with an old-fashioned parade opening the program at 2 p. m.
Friday, followed by the crowning of the queen and a street dance
at night.

Other activities for the four days
will be talent show, horse show,
gospel singing, memorial services,
parades, with fireworks closing the program on Monday night.

Bands, drum and bugle corps,
drill teams, etc. are invited to enter the parades, also civic and fraternal organizations are invited to enter floats.

Boy Found Hanging From Swing in Yard

ELDRED, Ill. (UP). — The body of Donald Henson, 5, was found Wednesday hanging from a makeshift swing in the yard of his farm home.

Deputies said the lad apparently had been standing on an old automobile tire and fell, catching his neck in a loop of the rope.

Early Olympics First Olympic games of which there is record occurred in 776 B. C. They originally were patri- otic, religious, and athletic festi- vals. Modern Olympic games date from 1896.

Cost Comes Second In Appliance Buying

CHICAGO. — Couples pay little attention to price when they go shopping for home appliances,
one executive says.

Judson S. Sayre, president of an appliance company (Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp.) said
during the recent home furnishings shows here, "the American people don't pay half as much attention to prices as most merchandisers think."

"If the appliance is convenient, attractive and work-saving, the public will buy it no matter what the price."

Actually, Sayre said, the trend is toward purchases of more and more expensive models as husbands' pay checks increase.

Sayre said the big seller in home appliances this year will be the home dryer. The industry, he said, expects to sell $50,000 during 1955.

He laughed at those experts who predict depression.
"With the high level of income for industrial workers now current, plus their desire to buy many things for their homes, I see nothing in sight to cause such pessimism," he said.

Predicts Another Eruption by Volcano in Hawaii

PAHOA, Hawaii (UP)—Volcanologist Gordon MacDonald predicted today another eruption will take place in the Kilauea Volcanic system.

MacDonald based his prediction on a new series of earthquakes, similar to those preceding last week's violent eruptions in fissures 25 miles from Kilauea.

Some 1,500 residents of Pahoa were alerted to evacuate their homes at a moment's notice. Convoys of trucks stood by to carry out the evacuation, if it should become necessary.

Smoke and steam were still issuing from the Puukii cone, which rose to a height of 105 feet last week.

Three hundred evacuees from Kapoho village, which miraculously escaped destruction, probably will be the last to return to their homes. Their town is practically atop a rift which could explode any time.

Seven days of volcanic activity in the Puna region subsided Sunday night after causing an estimated 3 million dollars worth of damage to homes, land and crops.

Asks Legislature for Free Fishing, Hunting Licenses for Oldsters

CHARLESTON, Ill. (UP)—Oldsters in Illinois ought not to have to buy fishing and hunting licenses.

That's the view of 65-year-old Fred Brown, who today was circulating a petition requesting the Legislature to exempt persons 65 and over from hunting and fishing license laws.

Brown said he got the idea in Kentucky, where he stopped to buy a fishing license, and was informed that persons 65 or over didn't have to buy licenses.

A bill to exempt persons over 65 from buying hunting and fishing licenses already has been introduced in the Illinois Legislature.

Stratton, Budget Group Discuss Revenue Needs

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — You may be paying higher Illinois sales taxes soon to meet mounting demands on the state Treasury.

That was the gist today of conclusions reached at a meeting of state budget and school experts with Gov. William G. Stratton.

The Illinois Budgetary Commission told Stratton it believed he must consider ways of getting extra money to supply needs of schools, welfare services, and "necessary" state building construction.

Chairman Everett R. Peters was asked if he thought Stratton thus will urge a penny sales tax hike for one year, as has been suggested.

"I can't say he's going to recommend a 1-cent sales tax increase but I feel positive he's going to have to," the St. Joseph Republican said.

The state senator said Stratton "feels there's not much he can do but raise some more money."

Peters was seconded by Democratic Rep. Paul Powell, already sponsor of a bill before the Legislature to hike the sales tax.

But Powell declared he will not back an attempt to boost sales taxes, now at 2 cents on the dollar, unless the proceeds are earmarked for specific purposes like school aid and welfare.

$327 Million Extra Requests

Exactly what Stratton will decide upon is expected to remain in the dark until he presents his budget message to the Legislature, sometime within the next month.

Members of the Budgetary Commission and the School Problems Commission met with Stratton for three hours Wednesday, before the budget planners issued their statement.

The Budgetary Commission approved a recommendation of $200,000 for distributive and lunch aid to schools for 1955-57 — 52 million dollars over the amounts appropriated for both purposes for 1953-55.

Peters said added demands on the state have resulted in requests for 1955-57 totaling 327 million dollars more than the current budget.

He said 91 million has been trimmed from these requests, and there probably will be more reductions by the Budgetary Commission. A penny hike in the sales tax would bring in 100 million dollars a year.

Boy Who Fled from Police in Blizzard Faces Loss of Feet

CHICAGO (UP) — Fifteen-year-old Felix Hostnick III, who walked five miles barefoot in a blizzard to avoid capture as a car thief, faced the possible loss of both his feet today because of frostbite.

A doctor said it was the "worst case" of frozen feet he had ever seen, but that he won't know for several days whether amputation is necessary.

Police said the boy, an elementary school student in the wealthy suburb of Northfield, faces car theft charges. A companion, Robert Burger Jr., 15, also of Northfield, already has been charged and taken to Cook County Juvenile Home.

The story came to light Wednesday when suburban Glencoe police traced Hostnick to St. Francis Hospital in Evanston, where he had been taken Tuesday night by his parents.

Police said the youths were speeding in separate stolen autos during a blizzard Sunday night when policeman Clarence Dahl of Glencoe started after them. The cars took separate routes, and Dahl pursued Hostnick.

Hostnick's car went out of control and crashed into a tree. Dahl approached and Hostnick kicked off his heavy boots and fled. He outdistanced the officer and walked five miles to his home.

Police didn't know the youth's identity until Glencoe Chief Arthur Pantle received an anonymous call Wednesday that he was in the hospital.

Hostnick's car went out of control and crashed into a tree. Dahl approached and Hostnick kicked off his heavy boots and fled. He outdistanced the officer and walked five miles to his home.

10 Puerto Ricans Found Guilty Of Conspiracy

NEW YORK (UP) — A Federal Court jury today found 10 Puerto Rican Nationalists guilty of conspiracy in connection with the attempted assassination of former President Truman and an attack on representatives on the floor of Congress.

The verdict ruled the Nationalists were guilty of conspiring to overthrow the government of the United States by force and violence.

They face a possible maximum penalty of six years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Sentence was not immediately pronounced.

The attempted assassination of then President Truman occurred on the steps of Blair House across the street from the White House on Oct. 1, 1950. The attack on the floor of the House of Representatives occurred March 1, 1954.

None of those actually taking part in the incidents was among the Nationalists found guilty today. The attack of Mr. Truman was carried out by three men. One was killed on the steps of Blair House. The other two were sentenced to death but were granted clemency by Mr. Truman.

Three Nationalists, two men and one woman, made the attack on the House of Representatives in which five congressmen were wounded. They were tried and convicted.

Communist Agents Still Likely on Gov't Payroll

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

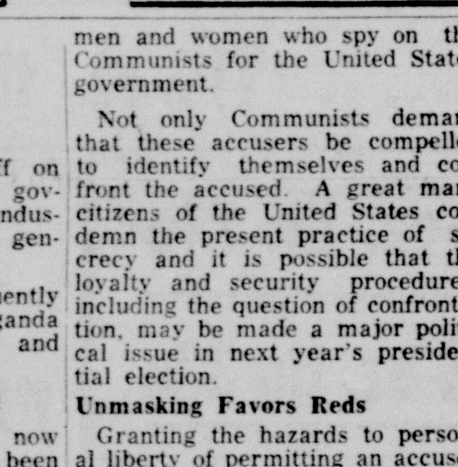

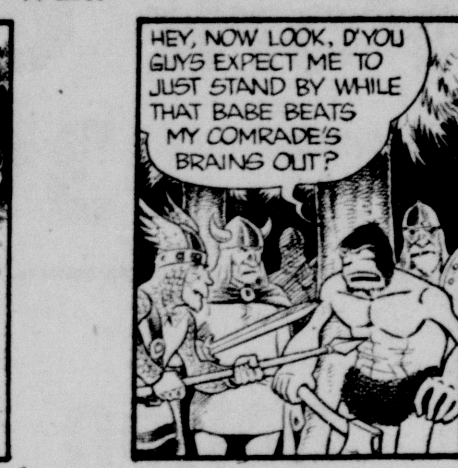

WASHINGTON (UP) — Responsible individuals here concede that Communist agents more likely than not are employed on sensitive government projects and that one or more Alger Hisses doubtless remain on the public payroll.

It is reasonable to believe that several highly placed Communist agents—at or near the Hiss level—are operating actively within the government structure.

Belief that the government still is seriously penetrated by Communist spies is based on deduction drawn from known facts. These facts include:

1. Positive evidence that the

men and women who spy on the Communists for the United States government.

Not only Communists demand that these accusers be compelled to identify themselves and confront the accused. A great many citizens of the United States condemn the present practice of secrecy and it is possible that the loyalty and security procedures, including the question of confrontation, may be made a major political issue in next year's presidential election.

Unmasking Favors Reds

Granting the hazards to personal liberty of permitting an accuser to hide his name and face, the other side of the story is that United States counter-intelligence in this country against Communism would be crippled badly if the accusers were unmasked.

The Communists would like it if each accuser were compelled to ## unmask and face his accuser in the open, one by one. The undercover career of that particular counter-espionage agent, obviously would end instantly when his identity was known. The loyalty procedure would become a checkers game in which the FBI would lose an undercover operative for each loyalty risk turned up, regardless of how unimportant the disloyal individual might be.

It apparently is Communist theory that they have more pawns in such a game than does the FBI and that the supply of undercover operatives soon would be exhausted.

Coal Company Faces $50,000 Damage Suit

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — The Madison Coal Corp. today faced a $50,000 damage suit because of a coal mine it closed in 1925.

The suit was brought Wednesday in Sangamon County Circuit Court by Joseph P. and Albert L. Covi, operators of a general store at Divernon, south of here. The store is located near the old mine workings.

The brothers charge that when the company sealed the mine in 1925 it failed to provide adequate supports to keep the ground surface above the mine from settling.

The suit claimed that the ground above the mine has sunken so seriously that the store building has become unsafe, and will have to be abandoned.

BIG LEAGUE ROOKIES . . . No. 1

See Howard in Yankee Outfield

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — (NEA)—Howard Elston, who will be the first Negro ever to wear Yankee flannels in a championship game.

Paul Richards is positive of that, following the 18-player trade in which the new manager of the Orioles picked up five years or more of slack in what had been a sadly neglected farm system.

Richards, you see, wanted Howard and his distance bat, but realized that tremendous social pressure, among other factors, would not permit the New York Americans to swap the most valuable player in the international league.

THE YANKEES SOUGHT the young fireballer, Bob Turley, and shortstop Bill Hunter, and Trader Richards used the Howard argument as a wedge to fill two positions with excellent prospects. They are big Hal Smith and towering Gus Triandos.

Not a few diamond appraisers regard Smith, the American Association batting champion with .350, the most accomplished catcher in the business, Triandos, who caught for Kansas City last trip, will play first base, where he has had experience.

Richards was pictured as hypnotized when he gave up pitchers Turley and Don Larsen, along with Hunter and junk for Smith, Triandos, Gene Woodling, Willie Miranda, Harry Byrd, Jim McDonald, Bill Miller and Don Leppert and Kal Segrist, the latter pair infielders who hit well in the higher minors. It doesn't sound like a good deal, but the one-time Boy Wonder of Waxahatchee assures you he had his eyes wide open all the while.

A CARLOAD OF COURAGE was required to deal Turley, the potential Bob Feller, but Richards, the gambler, had to do it or run a franchise for the glorification of one player. He realizes that his entire future rides on the gigantic swap. If the Yankees resume their pennant-winning and the orange-chested Orioles, once more wind up no better than seventh or in the cellar, Professor Paul will have to do a lot of explaining.

But the Lord Baltimore's plight demanded daring action, and if the worst comes, Richards is an old hand at being second guessed.

As for Howard, Richards sees him as an outfielder. "Howard is a rousing hitter (21 doubles, 16 triples, 22 home runs, 109 runs batted in and a 330 for Toronto)," says Richards, "his eyes following a particularly handsome craft in Daytona Beach's Municipal Yacht Basin. 'But I doubt that he is ready to catch in the American league.'

"Even if Howard could catch up here now, he wouldn't get a chance to prove it for three or four years, or as long as Yogi Berra is able to move, and Yogi hadn't slowed down any the last time I looked. My guess is that Howard will see more service in the outfield than as a catcher. Casey Stengel originally switched him from the outfield to catching, you'll recall."

Track Practice Begins at Eldorado

Track practice, on a limited basis, started Wednesday at Eldorado high school.

Coach Al Adams issued a call for distance runners, and will make a general call after the next week, when some 70 or more candidates are expected to report.

Three and possibly four veterans are expected to give Eldorado lots of strength in the distance events. Bob Watson, Frank Willis and Roscoe Woods, milers, have indicated they will run again and Lionel Lovellette, a senior, may run or may feel he doesn't have the time to devote to the spring sport with graduation coming up.

Briefs from Training Camps

INDIANS' PRIZE ROOKIE SPRINTS HIS ANKLE

TUCSON, Ariz. (U)—Herb Score's debut at the most publicized rookie of 1955 and potential No. 4 man of the Cleveland Indians' brilliant pitching staff was feared postponed today as a result of a sprained ankle.

The 21-year-old southpaw, a 22-game winner for Indianapolis in 1954, sprained his right ankle Wednesday when he tripped over first base during fielding practice. He was to have started for the Indians Friday against the world champion New York Giants.

General Manager Hank Greenberg announced, meanwhile, that American League batting champion Bobby Avila's arrival was delayed. Avila, who hit .341 last season, had been expected Wednesday. He has not yet signed his contract.

The Indians open their Grapefruit League schedule today against the Chicago Cubs, who will be without the services of second baseman Gene Baker. Baker, who has a stiff arm, was left behind in Mesa, Ariz.

CONLEY TO HURL AGAINST DODGERS

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Gene Conley, who beat Brooklyn five times in 1954, will start for the Milwaukee Braves tonight in their exhibition opener against the Dodgers. Rookie Ed Roebuck will pitch for Brooklyn.

RED SOX OUTFIELDER HITS CONCRETE WALL

SARASOTA, Fla. (U)—Outfielder Karl Olson of the Boston Red Sox reported himself completely recovered from his duel with a concrete wall today but Manager Mike Higgins wasn't taking any chances.

Higgins said Faye Throneberry would replace Olson in left field today when the Red Sox open their exhibition schedule against the Washington Senators.

Olson was knocked unconscious when he crashed into the left field wall on Tuesday.

TIGERS' PHILLIES' ROOKIES RECEIVE PRAISE

CLEARWATER, Fla. (U)—Rookies were the talk of both squads today as the Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Phillies opened their exhibition game schedules.

Manager Bucky Harris announced that rookie outfielders J. W. Porter and John Phillips will go north with the Tigers and believed either could make the team. Porter hit .400 for the Fort Ord, Calif., Army team last season while Phillips hit .345 for the Fort Jackson team which lost in the finals of the All-Army championship.

Manager Mayo Smith of the Phillies, meanwhile, praised rookie pitchers Jack Meyer and Tommy Qualters for their performances in Wednesday's intra-camp game. Meyer hurled three hitless innings and Qualters, a $40,000 bonus baby yielded only one in three frames.

GIEL DISAPPOINTS IN GIANT DEBUT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—Paul Giel, former Minnesota football star and a $75,000 bonus baby, proved a disappointment in his spring debut for the world champion Giants.

Giel was banged for five hits and three runs in an inning and a half during Wednesday's intrasquad game, won by the rookies, 4-2. Wes Westrum and Willie Mays homered for the varsity.

ROOKIE TO HURL FOR BALTIMORE

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (U)—Rookie Rindol Duren was named by Manager Paul Richards today to hurl for the Baltimore Orioles in Friday's exhibition opener with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

WHITE SOX LOSE VETERAN FOR 10 DAYS

TAMPA, Fla. (U)—Veteran southpaw Ted Gray was lost for 10 days to the Chicago White Sox today when they opened their exhibition game schedule against the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Gray strained a muscle in his back several days ago when he lunged for a low throw while covering first base.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Redlegs revealed he will try third baseman Ray Jablonski at different spots in the batting order "until I find out where he fits best."

TURLEY TO HURL AGAINST CARDINALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—Bob Turley makes his long-awaited debut for the New York Yankees today against a St. Louis Cardinal lineup that includes Stan Musial and eight rookies.

Stanky explained the presence of eight rookies in his starting lineup was necessary because the March 1 training deadline did not give his veterans enough time to rotund into playing shape.

Pinckneyville Beats W. Frankfort, 56-51; Anna Advances at Marion With 67-59 Victory Over Brookport

By United Press

The Canton Bulldogs added to their lustrous record in Illinois high school basketball tourney annals with Wednesday night's biggest surprise, a 51-35 victory over favored Pekin.

In the other 14 sectional tournament openers, form prevailed except perhaps for district winner Potomac's 57-51 win from Monticello.

Wednesday night's winners went into the Friday finals along with the winners of 15 sectional games tonight. The sectional champs, plus the Chicago Public League tourney winner, advance to the state finals at Champaign next week.

Canton's George Busby was the Bulldog hero, scoring 30 points, 18 of them in a row. Busby took the starch out of the Chinks from the starch capital, co-champions of the Big 12 who ended with a season record of 27-4.

Merrill (Duster) Thomas' Pinckneyville Panthers threaded their way to a 56-51 win over a fighting West Frankfort (15-14) outfit. The Pins used a cushion of 32 points on free throws in winning their 29th annual game.

Anna-Jonesboro (21-6), regular season upsets of Pinckneyville, advanced at Marion, whipping Brookport 67-59.

Moline Has Rough Going

Elgin and Park Forest Rich were impressive, but Moline, one of three top favorites for the state crown—won with Rockford West and Centralia—ran into rough going.

Elgin breezed to its 22nd win against three defeats by smacking Arlington Heights (6-18) by 90-44. Rich (24-2) led the night's scoring with a 104-76 pasting of East Aurora (12-12).

Kewanee (16-13) had Moline (25-2) tied going into the final minute of play at Rock Island. Then Moline's Johnny Myers got a fielder and the Maroons went ahead to win 47-43. Moline had beaten Kewanee twice in Northwest Conference competition.

Galesburg's Bill Granning garnered 16 points to lead the streakers over Bushnell-Prairie City 66-46. Galesburg (16-11) hadn't been in a sectional for five years and hasn't been in the state finals since 1947.

Nine New Records By Don Schlundt During Career

CHICAGO (U)—Don Schlundt, who led the Big Ten in scoring for three straight years, broke nine records during his career, official statistics showed today.

The 6-10 Indiana center went out like a champion last Saturday night in his college finale against Ohio State.

He set a new conference mark with 25 free throws and tied his own single game scoring total of 47 points.

Other records he set this season were the most free throws attempted in one game, 30; most free throws made per game during the season, 11.2, and most points in conference games in his college career, 1,431.

Previous marks held by Schlundt were for highest scoring average for the season, the best field goal average over a season, the single game free throw average and the most free throws per game for a season.

Princeton Wins Ivy League Title

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (U)—Persistent Princeton dominated its sixth Ivy League basketball crown today and Coach Franklin (Cappy) Cappon promised the Tigers will "come up with something entirely different" against La Salle in the NCAA Tournament.

Storming from behind in the second half, Princeton took the championship Wednesday night by trouncing Columbia in a special playoff, 86-69, in the Rutgers University gym.

Despite the final margin of 17 points, Columbia threw a scare into the Tigers by rallying from a 46-38 halftime deficit to seize the lead, 55-52, with 14 minutes to play. But then Princeton reeled off seven straight points, including two jump shots by Hal Haabestad, to go back in front to stay.

Busch Expects First Division For Cardinals

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U)—August A. Busch Jr., owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, blamed his front office rather than his manager, Eddie Stanky, for the poor showing of his club last season, but indicated Wednesday that some changes would be made if the team finished in the second division in 1955.

"Our failure last season was our pitching," he said, "and while I received hundreds of complaints about Stanky, I didn't think we gave him the material to win with. But this year, I certainly expect to be in the first division and I think the Cardinals are one of four clubs to beat, the others being the Giants, Dodgers and Milwaukee."

"I'm definitely optimistic about our chances."

Busch refused to discuss Stanky's future status except to say that he "definitely believes he is a major league manager."

Stanky has two more years to go on a three-year contract. In his first season as manager of the Cardinals in 1953 the club finished third, but last season wound up sixth.

"But he has better horses than I, for our youngsters should improve our club tremendously," Busch said. He admitted that he "paid through the nose" in the deal which brought the Cardinals relief pitcher Frank Smith from the Cincinnati Redlegs. The Cards gave up third baseman Ray Jablonski and pitcher Gerry Staley.

However, we figured relief pitching was our big need and to get the man we wanted we knew we were going to have to give up more than we wanted to give up," he explained. "There was no other way out."

Carrier Mills High School Athletic Banquet March 21

The Carrier Mills high school athletic banquet, sponsored annually by the Carrier Mills Lions club, will be held Monday, March 21.

Paul McKinnis, Eldorado school principal and Big Ten athletic official, will be guest speaker. Members of the CMCHS basketball squad and Coach and Mrs. Claude Shelton and the cheer leaders and their sponsor, Miss Wanda Hancock, will be honored guests.

The banquet will be held in the Masonic temple with the meal prepared and served by members of the Order of Eastern Star, and the CMCHS home economics department, under the direction of Mrs. Howard James, will take care of decorations.

The Lions club committee in charge of arrangements are Warren G. Jennings and John E. Austin.

Mr. Jennings stated today the public is invited and tickets could be purchased for $1.50. However, there will be a limited supply of tickets for the public and they must be purchased in advance. They may be bought at either the high school office or Henshaw's Clothing store.

San Francisco's Woolpert Named Coach of Year

NEW YORK (U)—Phil Woolpert, who developed a gang of kids from the "backyard" of the University of San Francisco into the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, today was chosen United Press coach of the year for the 1954-55 season.

The 39-year-old Dons coach was elected in a nationwide poll of 265 sportswriters and radio broadcasters who voted for the United Press All-America team. Woolpert's total of 140 votes was remarkably high, considering that 33 coaches figured in the balloting.

Woolpert, a master at teaching strong defense and sound ball-handling, guided San Francisco through a regular season 23-1 record and the No. 1 national rating of the United Press Board of Coaches. The Dons began their NCAA championship quest Tuesday night with an 89-66 victory over West Texas State.

The San Francisco coach was such an overwhelming choice for the honor that runner-up Adolph Rupp of Kentucky received only 28 votes. Duddy Moore of Duquesne, United Press coach of the year in 1952 and 1954, finished third this year with 14 votes.

The South Pole was discovered by Roald Amundsen in 1911, after a 55-day trek with dog sleds across the great ice shelf.

THE STORY: Broke again, Johnny Fletcher and his pal Sam Cragg, are playing detective after being suspects in the murder of Jess Carmichael III, wealthy playboy, in the apartment of Alice Cummings. Johnny had been skipping on a bill owed by Alice Cummings and she gave him a goose bank full of old coins to settle the bill. The bank apparently is a clue to the murder. Paying a call on the father of the murdered man, Johnny and Sam meet a cousin of the victim, James Sutton, and Hertha Colston, who, like Alice Cummings, claims to be young Jess' fiancée.

XII
"I like the way you got in to see Cousin Jess," Sutton said. "Mmm, could you locate a man who, let's say, disappeared 12 years ago?"
"You name him and I'll find him."
"What does a skip tracer usually get?"
"Ten bucks," Sam volunteered inadvertently.
Johnny gave him the elbow again. "Finding a missing person isn't skip tracing. It's detective work."

"Same thing, isn't it?" asked Sutton.
"Skip tracing a man who owes a bill is minor-league stuff. But a man who's missing, uh, that takes real detective work. And you know what the better detective agencies charge."

"I haven't the slightest," Sutton said. "I'm willing to pay a fair price, though, to find my cousin, Lester Smithson."
"What relation is he to Jess Carmichael, senior?"
"Nephew, same as I am. Uncle Jess had two sisters, Della and Carrie. Lester was Della's son. Carrie Carmichael was my mother."

"Your aunt and your mother are both dead?"
"Yes."
"Mmm," said Johnny thoughtfully. "I catch on. With Jess the third dead, that leaves you the next of kin."

"Except for Lester."
"You want me to find Lester. Since you're the heir to the Carmichael grocery stores, I'll naturally have to charge you a larger fee."

James Sutton chuckled. "You are a character, Fletcher. All right, name your price."

"A hundred dollars a day."
"Isn't that a little stiff?"
"It might be for the ordinary detective agency," Johnny admitted. "But when you hire Johnny Fletcher, you're hiring the best."

"Let's say $50 a day."
"For my A-1 work?"
"Your best. Fifty dollars a day, for five days and a, ah, bonus of $200 when you succeed."

"Seven days and a $500 bonus?"
"Very well."
"And a retainer of, say, $200?"
"I'll send you a check tomorrow."

Johnny frowned. "Couldn't you pay something now—just to bind the agreement?"
"I'm afraid I left my wallet at home."

Johnny's frown became a scowl. "I wasn't able to get to the bank today. Sam, how much money have you got on you?"
"Why, you know, Johnny, $145."

"You, too?" Johnny shook his head. "This is a bit awkward. Not even enough to tip the driver." He turned back to Sutton. "Haven't you got some small change on you?"

Sutton drew a $5 bill from his pocket.
A few minutes later they ran smoothly into the service entrance of the Barbizon-Waldorf Hotel.

"A nice drive," Johnny said to the chauffeur. "I may want you again, tomorrow."

"Very good, sir," replied the chauffeur. "Just ask for Wilbur. Let's see, it's just about three hours. That'll be $18, sir."

"Very reasonable," Johnny said, concealing a little wince. "I made arrangements with the bell captain. Room 821. Here—here's a little something for you."

He handed the man the $5 bill he had just obtained from Sutton. The man touched his visored cap. "Thank you, sir."

Johnny, Sam and Sutton walked into the hotel. "I'll leave you now," Sutton said. "But I'll get in touch with you tomorrow."

"But better give me your number, so I can call you if I get something important."

Sutton suddenly grinned. "Look Fletcher, what's wrong with me phoning you here? You are in Room 821, aren't you?"

"Sure," said Johnny. "Room 821... at the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel."

Sutton exclaimed softly. "But you charged the limousine to... Then he chuckled. "All right, the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel."

"Now you might as well give me your address," Johnny said. "I'll find it out anyway."

"You've got a point there. Believe it or not, I happen to live here."

Although it was after 11 o'clock when they entered the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel, Peabody, the manager, was in the lobby. He smiled wolfishly when he spied Johnny and Sam heading for the elevators.

"Mr. Fletcher," he called.
Johnny turned to the desk. "Harya, Peabody, a good night's sleep to you."

"But not to you," retorted Peabody. "I see no reason for letting you stay another night in this hotel. As long as you're going to take up your abode in the subway, you might as well do it this evening."

Chinese Communists, Nationalists Get Ready for Quemoy-Matsu Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chinese Communists and Chinese Nationalists appear to be getting ready for a showdown in the Quemoy-Matsu islands area, officials said today.

The United States apparently has not decided exactly what it will do if the current buildup on both sides results in a Chinese fight. The role of intervention or non-intervention will be decided by President Eisenhower.

Moving Up Guns
Experts report that Red China in recent weeks has moved more artillery of longer-range calibre to positions opposite the Nationalist-held Quemoy and Matsu island groups. This was the ominous technique employed on the ground by the Reds in Indochina last year when they got the upper hand there.

The Communists also are known to be concentrating troops and supplies in nearby coastal areas. Small naval craft released from duty following the Nationalist evacuation of the Tachen Islands, farther north, have appeared in waters near the Quemoy and Matsu groups.

Chinese Nationalist forces likewise have been moved from Formosa and the Tachen Islands to the Quemoy-Matsu area. United States ships and planes are dispatched to the Formosa area.

Pressure On Nationalists
The United States is putting pressure on the Nationalists not to undertake any suicidal mainland invasion campaign.

India, Britain, and perhaps the Soviet Union are similarly putting pressure on the Chinese Reds to avoid any military action that could spark a fight in the Matsu-Quemoy area.

The outcome of this two-way pressure campaign is in doubt. Some high officials believe a tacit cease-fire already exists in the Formosa Strait. Others believe that the absence of any major action now is only the calm before the storm of a large-scale Red attack on the offshore islands.

The scale of any Red offensive action will be an important factor in U. S. action.

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's Gov. Averell Harriman has summoned the Democratic Party to shift its foreign policy toward the British position on the combined problems of Red China and Formosa.

Harriman's move was politically significant with respect both to United States and international politics. The New York governor generally is regarded as an eager if unannounced candidate for next year's Democratic presidential nomination. To understand the full significance of Harriman's speech March 8 before the Nationalities Division of the Democratic National Committee in New York it is necessary that it be read in relation with two other speeches of international significance delivered on the same day.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles broadcast a report to the nation on his journey to Asia. British Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden spoke in the House of Commons.

Dulles Threatens Force
Dulles spoke earnestly of U. S. hopes for peace in Asia. But he promised Red China to meet force with force, perhaps the full force of American armed might, in defense of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores. Dulles was speaking as a military ally of Nationalist China. He was not explicit about the Nationalist islands of Matsu and Quemoy.

Eden was reporting to Commons on a similar journey during which he conferred with Dulles. Neither diplomat sought to deny the wide differences between them on Formosan-Chinese policy. Eden conceded the United States' urgent desire for peace and proposed a compromise settlement far beyond the limit to which the Eisenhower administration is willing to go.

Eden proposed that parties to the Formosan controversy make concessions which, ultimately would lead to admission of Red China into the United Nations and, by implication, the ultimate disappearance of Nationalist China as a real or paper entity.

"Swap" Quemoy, Matsu
Specifically, Eden proposed that Chinese Nationalists abandon Matsu and Quemoy and that Red China not prosecute her claims to Formosa "by forceful means." Eden said that as of now no progress had been made toward settlement of the Formosa dispute.

Harriman's speech in New York was, in effect, a proposal that the United States make some or all of the concessions proposed by Eden. Harriman denounced what he called a Republican go-it-alone policy in defiance of the policies of U. S. Allies which, in this instance, would relate most specifically to the British.

"The first thing we must do in the Formosa area," Harriman said, "is to end our desperately dangerous policy of going it alone. We must internationalize the defense of Formosa and do it if possible through the United Nations."

Taken together, the three speeches show clearly the wide differences between Washington and London and the direction in which Harriman would point Democratic Party policy.

Meanwhile O'Brien, chairman of the Cook County subcommittee, reported his group was "still studying" that problem.

"It's like trying to put a square peg in a round hole to fit 18 districts into Chicago," O'Brien said.

Reapportionment of both houses of the Legislature was provided by the constitutional amendment approved by the voters Nov. 2—the House according to population, the Senate by area.

Sen. Elbert S. Smith, Decatur Republican heading a Senate subcommittee for northern Illinois outside Cook County, told the Elections Committee Wednesday his group had tentatively settled on a basis for Senate redistricting.

The plan would make districts range from 75 to 125 per cent of an average of 1,600 square miles for senatorial districts, Smith said.

Smith said after copies of the maps are prepared and studied, the group will meet again next week to discuss them. Then there would be the problem of matching the upper half of the Senate with the lower.

Moline Bans Sale Or Giveaway of Easter Pets in Stores

MOLINE, Ill.—Moline stores have been forbidden, to sell or give away live chickens, ducklings or rabbits for Easter on grounds the practice is "cruel and unsanitary."

City health inspector John Lindquist slapped the ban on Wednesday after Mrs. Marie Wiegand, president of the Rock Island Humane Society, said the practice results in "torture and death" for the fowls and animals.
